

2021 Dr. Jack Wilmore Legacy Registration Award

BACKGROUND:

Established in memory of Dr. Jack H. Wilmore, Ph.D., FACSM. Dr. Wilmore served as ACSM president in 1978-1979 and was the recipient of the ACSM Citation Award in 1984 and the ACSM Honor Award in 2006. He was editor-in-chief of Exercise and Sport Science Review from 1972 to 1975.

During Jack's career, he was awarded more than $2.7 million in research grants from the National Institutes of Health, NASA and the United States Air Force. As a prolific and distinguished contributor to the sports medicine field, he published 317 research articles, 55 chapters in edited books and authored or co-authored 15 books.

Wilmore earned both a bachelor's and master's degree in physical education at the University of California, Santa Barbara and a doctorate in physical education from the University of Oregon. During his career, he was an associate professor at Ithaca College, University of California, Berkeley and the University of California, Davis. He served as head of the physical education department at University of Arizona, head of the kinesiology and health education department at the University of Texas, Austin and head of the health and kinesiology department at Texas A&M. He also was a consultant to the Los Angeles Dodgers, Rams, Lakers and Kings, as well as the California Angels and San Francisco 49ers.

AWARD:

In 2021, the American College of Sports Medicine Foundation will be offering two (2) Registration Awards through the Jack Wilmore Legacy Fund. The purpose of the award is to advance education for (2) doctoral or post-doctoral fellows by providing complimentary registration to present their scholarly work at ACSM's 68th Annual Meeting June 1-5, 2021. This award is enabled by generous donations from ACSM members and friends of Dr. Wilmore, and by a multi-year commitment by Human Kinetics.

Drawing from Dr. Wilmore's broad contributions, one award will recognize research presented as Basic Science, and one award will recognize research presented as Applied Science. Applicants are asked to cite two articles from an archived list of Dr. Wilmore's work, and identify how their submitted abstract aligns with or was influenced by Dr. Wilmore's publications.

2021 Dr. Jack Wilmore Legacy Registration Award

REQUIREMENTS:

1. Must be a doctoral student in good standing, or be engaged in a post-doctoral fellowship, at the time of submission of the abstract for the ACSM Annual Meeting.
2. Applicant must be a current ACSM member.
3. Abstract must have the applicant as the first author and have been accepted by the program committee for presentation at the ACSM Annual Meeting. As final Annual Meeting abstract selections may not be released by this date, interested candidates are encouraged to apply with their submitted abstract, and verification of acceptance will be made during the application review process. A copy of the submitted abstract should also accompany the application.
4. Must have a faculty sponsor, who must sign the application indicating that the doctoral student or post-doctoral fellow is in good standing and is responsible for the research abstract being presented.
5. A letter (no longer than one page) from the applicant describing: a) the importance of the research being presented; and b) how the research aligns with or is historically linked to two articles published by Dr. Wilmore: one in the "Area of Interest" classification for which the abstract is being submitted, and one from an alternative classification (for example, if an abstract is being submitted in Basic Science, the applicant should cite one "Basic Science" article, and a second article from the "Applied Science" or "Basic and Applied Science" listings of Dr. Wilmore's work).
 - A comprehensive listing of articles published by Dr. Wilmore, grouped by association to Basic Science, Applied Science, or Basic and Applied Science, can be found by following this link.
