ESM Call for Submissions – Pediatric Sports Medicine

The American College of Sports Medicine’s (ACSM) premier open access journal, Exercise, Sport, and Movement (ESM), issues a call for article submissions in the area of pediatric sports medicine. The goal of this call for submissions is to highlight the breadth of research in the area of pediatric sports medicine, so papers on all topics in this area are welcome.

Accepted article types include original investigations, clinical cases, systematic reviews and meta-analyses, brief reviews, graphical reviews, and registered reports. More information on article type guidelines is available in the ESM Instructions for Authors.

All submissions for this call for papers are subject to ESM’s typical peer review process. Articles accepted for publication will be published as soon as possible online and will be included in the Pediatric Sports Medicine topical collection on our website.

Authors writing papers for this call should review the ESM Instructions for Authors before submitting. When ready, authors can submit papers via our Editorial Manager submission site. Please indicate on your title page and in the comments section in Editorial Manager that your paper is for the Pediatric Sports Medicine call for submissions.

IMPORTANT NOTE: ESM is a fully open access journal which requires authors of accepted articles to pay an article processing charge. For more information, please see the ESM Instructions for Authors.

Deadline for submissions is July 1, 2024.

Please contact the ESM editorial office at esm@acsm.org with any questions.

About ESM:

Launched in 2022, ESM is an official journal of ACSM and is ACSM’s premier open access journal. ESM is an international peer reviewed journal that uses a continuous publication model. As an open access journal, ESM offers its content for free to any reader and article authors retain the copyright to published material. The scope of the journal is broad, encompassing scientific, clinical, public health, community, and policy topics in all areas related to sports and exercise medicine, exercise-related physiology, nutrition, metabolism, and physical fitness. Manuscripts addressing movement, fitness, exercise, physical activity, health promotion, sport, and prevention and treatment of injury and disease are welcome.
