

Assistant Professor of Kinesiology

Coe College seeks applications for a full-time, tenure-track opportunity in Kinesiology and Exercise Physiology position, to begin August 2020. Courses taught will likely include Exercise Physiology, Kinesiology and a course in their research specialty as well as teaching departmental introductory courses. Occasionally, the successful candidate will also teach a first year seminar course in their area of interest. Candidates interested in developing a rigorous track for students interested in graduate programs are preferred. The Department strongly values a commitment to a student-centered approach in teaching, research, and practice.

Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in Kinesiology, Exercise Science or a related field is desired. ABD candidates will be considered.
- Candidates who can provide evidence of successful teaching, an active program of research adaptable to student-faculty collaboration, and an interest in mentoring undergraduate students will be strongly preferred.
- Successful completion of a criminal background check in accordance with Coe College policy.
